'African Charity Night':

On Thursday 19th November the bongo drums were beating at Penn Central in Penn Hill as Children of Uganda (UK) - BSUF held its 'African Charity Night' fund raising event. The charity was established by Annette Mbedha, a Ugandan from the Village of Butansi in the Kamuli District. Annette, who now lives in the UK, came adorned in colourful native dress to participate in this event.

The evening had Ben Manners, the owner chef at Penn and its upstairs restaurant The Canopy providing Ugandan food, whilst Annette with two other local models displayed the multi-coloured dresses from Uganda to the beat of Cas's bongos.

Founder and Chairman of Children of Uganda (UK), Annette Mbedha with Dawn Perry, Jon Exton and Anna and Shaz modelling the African outfits.
